

Dear FCC,
Why should satellite radio be banned from providing local news and weather reports? It seems that if a new type of service is available to aid the consumer in getting the needed information the FCC should be all for this.

Why should one or two large conglomerates such as Clear Channel communication be the only ones to provide info regardless of the media type.

I urge you to take a true stance for our First Amendment rights of Free Speech and reject NAB's petition 04-160

Thank you

Stephen Ellis
